

Thinking of bringing lived experience into your teaching programme or strategic approach?

Common Room can help you do this.

We offer...

- Bespoke training and consultation on a range of topics relating to co-production, shared decision making and service user involvement.
- Course: Understanding Shared Decision Making and the Value of Young People's Lived Experience. Suited to cohorts of student nurses and other front line staff in health settings and clinical environments.
- Course: Building Voice and Influence into Everyday Practice. Suited to staff teams and those in key practitioner roles who want to explore meaningful service user involvement to enhance service delivery.

Why COMMON ROOM ?

- Common Room bring years of experience delivering bespoke training and consultation - from supporting organisations to develop workable strategies, to teaching students key principles and good practice in PPI
- We can explore common misconceptions and help overcome barriers to good involvement work
- Our expertise and materials come directly from real children, young people and young adults with relevant lived experience in relation to mental health challenges, trauma, ND and those in 'at risk' groups

lived experience via COMMON ROOM

Find out more

- email liz.neill@commonroom.uk.com
- read about our work commonroom.uk.com